The Nevada State Board of Cosmetology is proud to join Attorney General Catherine Cortez Masto and the Nevada Network Against Domestic Violence in support of the “Cut it Out” program.

Domestic Violence is an insidious problem that damages many families and relationships in every community. Working together we can have a significant impact on reducing the frequency of domestic violence and helping the battered person find the assistance they so desperately need. The cosmetologist, aesthetician and nail technologist are often the only people that the victimized person has to confide in.

In order to help these individuals, the Nevada Network Against Domestic Violence will provide the tools needed to recognize domestic violence and also gain the knowledge to respond properly. To request information on upcoming classes or informative materials please contact the Nevada Network Against Domestic Violence at 775-828-1115.

Together, we can assist victims find the help they need in order to break the cycle of violence.
