

Nevada Network Against Domestic Violence (NNADV) and the Lander County Committee Against Domestic Violence Present...

Supporting Children Exposed to Relationship Violence

The presentation is designed for professionals providing services to children who are exposed to relationship violence. Participants will be able to define and understand the scope and prevalence of relationship violence as it affects children in families struggling to live violence-free. Helpful strategies to support children and how to provide referrals to community-based advocacy programs will be discussed.

Date/Time

Thursday, May 19, 2016
1:00 p.m.—2:30 p.m.
Registration begins at 12:45 p.m.

Location

Community Meeting Room
50 State Route 305 in Battle Mountain NV

Cost: FREE

No food or beverages will be provided during this workshop, but you may wish to bring snacks and beverages for the mid-afternoon break.

Facilitator

Judy Henderson, MEd.
Training Coordinator, NNADV

Ms. Henderson is the training coordinator for the NNADV. She is responsible for the development, implementation and evaluation of education efforts that support the mission of the Nevada Network Against Domestic Violence. While working for NNADV, Judy has facilitated over 150 presentations to direct service providers, allied professionals and the general public. She holds a master's degree in Education Management from the University of LaVerne in California.

To Register

Visit

<http://www.nnadv.org/news-events/events-and-trainings> to view the flyer and to register using the link on the left side of this webpage.

Please note on the registration form is you are requesting CEUs. CEUs are pending for nursing, social work, and POST.

Registration Must Be completed by:

Fri. May 13th
before 5:00 p.m.

This presentation is supported by Grant No. G-1501NVSdVC from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Administration for Children and Families, Family and Youth Services Bureau. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the official views of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.