

Online Resources – updated 3/23/2014

This information is in alphabetical order from A-Z. To search the page for your topic of interest, hit CTRL and F, then type in key words in the search bar. You can search for the resources' target audience (i.e. parent, provider, educator, school, teen, advocate, all, boy, men, etc.). Click on any of the blue words to go to the website.

Website/Program Title	Target Audience	Description
Boss of Me (BOM) 411	Teen	A CA based website where teens give advice to teens about general health and wellness (www.bom411.com). The Help Center link has CA resources for teens in need.
Break the Cycle	Teen, provider, advocate, educator, school, parent	A non-profit organization that believes that everyone has the right to safe and healthy relationships. Safety planning guide: click here . A couple curricula for educating teens about dating violence: click here .
Bursting the Bubble	Teen, parent	www.burstingthebubble.com speaks directly to teens and youth about addressing multiple forms of abuse young people may be experiencing or witnessing in their homes and how it may impact them.
Center for Healthy Teen Relationships	Parent, advocate, educator, school	Another resource created by the Idaho Coalition Against Sexual and Domestic Violence providing training, technical assistance, lesson plans, resource materials, parent handbooks, and more. Click here .
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)	Teen, parent, advocate, provider, educator	The CDC has an entire violence prevention website with statistics, definitions, programs and initiatives, and more. Here is a website with lots more federal resources. The topic of teen dating violence can be found here .
Expect Respect	Educator, parent, school, provider, advocate, teen	Expect Respect is a school-based program for preventing teen dating violence and promoting safe and healthy relationships in middle and high school. It is designed for use by domestic violence or rape crisis centers that work with youth in schools.

Futures Without Violence	Teen, men, boy, parent, provider, educator, school, advocate	There is a program aimed at every walk of life from Futures Without Violence. It is perfectly applicable since anyone can be affected by violence.
Isn't She a Little Young?	Teen, provider, advocate, educator, parent	A Virginia Department of Health program dedicated to educating survivors or potential perpetrators on statutory rape laws. There are also some great online learning tools about sexual coercion.
Know More Say More	Teen, parent, provider, advocate	A Futures Without Violence program that addresses the intersection of domestic violence and reproductive health. http://www.knowmoresaymore.org/
Legal Talk: Legal Protection for Victims of School Bullying	Parent, educator, school	An article by Julie Underwood giving anti-bullying resources. Become a member to read the full article here.
Little Eyes, Little Ears	Advocate, survivor, educator, provider	http://www.lfcc.on.ca/little_eyes_little_ears.html has a comprehensive document talking about the impact of domestic violence on children and teens. See page 22 and 24 for sections focused on teens affected by domestic violence.
Love Doesn't Have to Hurt Teens	Teen, parent, educator	The American Psychological Association published a short article for survivors, perpetrators and friends, while addressing stereotypes and pressures teens may be feeling.
Love is Respect	LGBTQ teen, provider, advocate, educator, school, parent	A joint program created by Break the Cycle and the National Dating Abuse Hotline. Specifically for the support systems of LGBTQ teens and the teens themselves.

Love What's Real	Teen	http://lovewhatsreal.com/ is by the Idaho Coalition Against Sexual and Domestic Violence and designed to provide teens with information about healthy and unhealthy relationships.
My Strength/Mi Fuerza	Teen, boy, men, parent	A Facebook campaign that raises awareness of sexual violence among youth and highlights the vital role that young men play in fostering healthy, safe relationships. Created by the CA Coalition Against Sexual Assault.
National Child Traumatic Stress Network	Provider, Educator, Advocate, Parent	This website has lots of information on the trauma experienced by children and adolescents exposed to, or suffering from, domestic violence.
National Center for Victims of Crime	Teens, survivor, provider, advocate, parent	http://www.victimsofcrime.org/ provides help for crime victims, programs, training, and resources. Here is a link specifically for teens.
National Indigenous Women's Resource Center	Teen, survivor, native, advocate, provider, boy, men	www.niwrc.org provides resources for Native American persons dealing with domestic violence. Click on the "Youth Info" tab for teen information.
National Online Resource Center on Violence Against Women (VAW)	Teen, parent, advocate, provider	www.VAWnet.org has lots of information, research, and international trends. They recently updated their Preventing and Responding to Teen Dating Violence collaborative Special Collection.
National School Climate Center Bully Prevention	Educator, school, teen	http://www.schoolclimate.org/prevention/ provides tool kits for educators and peer leaders, as well as information about preparedness and policies.

National Sexual Violence Resource Center	Advocate, provider, teen, parent	www.nsvrc.org/ houses information and resources regarding all aspects of sexual violence. The NSVRC works to address the causes and impact of sexual violence through collaboration, prevention efforts, and the distribution of resources.
PreventConnect	Advocate, provider, educator	www.preventconnect.org provides online resources for education, events, and programs to encourage the primary prevention of sexual assault and domestic violence.
Prevention, Awareness, Wellness, and Strength (PAWS) for Change	Teen, men, boy, parent	A program in Klamath County, OR designed to engage men and boys in preventing violence . Funded by the OR Sexual Assault Task Force and the National Office of Violence Against Women Engaging Men and Boys Project.
Respect WORKS!	Provider, advocate, educator, school	Another collaborative program between Break the Cycle and Hazelden Publishing that gives a 4 step program for youth violence prevention .
Runaway & Homeless Youth and Relationship Violence Toolkit	Advocate, provider	A project created by the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence for practitioners facing homeless and abused youth. Find it here . For a teen, click on the “Teens in Need” button on the right side.
Stalking Resource Center	Teen, survivor, provider, advocate, parent	The National Center for Victims of Crime has this website to give stalking information to victims and advocates.
Start Strong: Building Healthy Teen Relationships	Teen, provider, advocate, parent, educator, school	A national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF) in collaboration with the Futures Without Violence, Start Strong is the largest initiative ever funded to target 11 to 14-year-olds. Find it here .

StopBullying.gov	Teen, educator, advocate, parent, school, provider	www.stopbullying.gov provides lots of information about bullying definitions, prevention, and resources for bullied teens. By the Department of Education and the Department of Health and Human Services.
Striving to Reduce Youth Violence Everywhere (STRYVE)	Parent, school, advocate, provider, educator, teen	A CDC program on www.vetoviolence.org that can be found by clicking here . Provides evidence-based education programs for communities. An online program about teen dating violence can be found here .
Teen Action Toolkit – Building a Youth-led Response to Teen Victimization	Teen, parent, educator, school	The U.S. Department of Justice, in collaboration with the National Center for Victims of Crime has created this program to provide guidance to encourage youth leaders to change their communities’ response to teenage victims of crime.
Teen Dating Violence Month (Feb)	Teen, parent, educator, school, provider, advocate	Although February has already passed, this website still has important resources for anyone needing information about teen dating violence.
Teens Experiencing Abusive Relationships (T.E.A.R.)	Teen, parent	http://www.teensagainstabuse.org/ is a teen-run organization to educate teens and parents about recognizing unhealthy relationships and more.
That’s Not Cool	Teen, parent, educator, school	A program created by Futures Without Violence, the Ad Council, and the Department of Justice’s Office on Violence Against Women. Helps teens to learn where their digital boundaries should be in their lives .
The Fourth R (relationships)	Educator, parent, school, provider, advocate	A website dedicated to presenting effective teaching strategies for healthy adolescent relationships and risky behavior reduction. https://youthrelationships.org/

The Line Campaign	Teen, educator, advocate, school	This program is aimed at older teens (college) in order to empower them to end sexual violence. Tons of videos, programs, and encouragement to be articulate and assertive about where their line is.
The Red Flag Campaign	Teen, campus/school, educator, advocate	This website is aimed at educating college students on healthy relationships (and unhealthy ones), as well as provide The Red Flag Campaign – an effective campaign that raises awareness of IPV on campuses.
The RESPECT! Campaign	Parent, educator, school, advocate, provider	Another program created by Futures Without Violence aimed at families and other teen role models so that they can have the resources they need to teach about healthy relationships. Find these resources here.
Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs	Educator, advocate, provider	http://www.wcsap.org/snaps contains Short Nifty Advocacy Pointers (SNAPS). They have a youth section near the bottom.
Youth Over Violence	Teen, educator, school, advocate	This website , created by Peace Over Violence, presents In Touch with Teens , violence prevention curricula for middle and high school students.