

New Research, Reports, and Helpful Tools from 2012 to now – updated 3/12/2014

This information is in alphabetical order from A-Z. To search the page for your topic of interest, hit CTRL and F, then type in key words in the search bar. You can search for your position in a teen's abusive relationship (i.e. parent, provider, educator, school, teen, advocate, all, etc.) as some articles contain these key words. Click on any of the blue words to go to the website.

Topic or Title	Date	Description, Location, and Author
"2013 Kids Count Data Book"	2013	The results of a project supported by the Annie E. Casey Foundation including overall, economic, health, family and community well-being for children across the US. This is the main site where you can access the full report and state rankings.
"American Public Health Association published books"	Tool – n.d.	A Public Health Approach to Bullying Prevention provides sustainable strategies at preventing bullying; Confronting Violence: Answering Questions About the Epidemic Destroying America's Homes and Communities is a great resource, and Youth Violence: Interventions for Health Care Providers is very relevant for providers.
"Bullying and Suicide: A Public Health Approach"	Jul 2013	An article found in the Journal of Adolescent Health that links suicide risk and bullying and offers some public health strategies to remedy this preventable association. Click here for this article and other relevant articles. By Hertz, M.F., Donato, I., & Wright, J.
"Bullying Prevention Awareness Month"	Oct 2013	US Department of Health and Human Services launched a large movement against bullying. Many helpful links for teens, advocates, parents, and providers at http://www.hhs.gov/news/press/2013pres/10/20131021a.html#
"Deadly Breakups: How to Talk About Teen Dating Violence"	Dec 2013	An article emphasizing why educating teens on healthy and unhealthy relationships is so critical. This Huffington Post article is by Golub, M., a parent of teenage daughters.
"Digital Abuse Study: Experiences of Teens and Young Adults"	Oct 2013	Published by the Associated Press and National Opinion Research Center. Press release and full report available at http://www.apnorc.org/projects/Pages/the-digital-abuse-study-experiences-of-teens-and-young-adults.aspx .

“Domestic Violence Training Modules”	Tool – n.d.	Stop Violence Against Women, a program of The Advocates for Human Rights presents sample training modules to train people about identifying, researching, and addressing the problem of domestic violence.
“Facebook for Educators and Community Leaders Guide”	Sep 2013	A helpful guide for teens, parents, educators, and more. The Facebook Guide and other related links are here.
“Governor Quinn Signs Laws to Crack Down on Domestic Violence in Illinois”	Aug 2013	New laws in Illinois make penalties harsher for repeat DV perpetrators, as well as require schools to adopt policies against teen dating violence. This press release can be found in the Illinois Government News Network site.
“It Gets Better”	Jun 2013	A new video posted by the U.S. Department of Education relating to the It Gets Better Project to help provide hope to bullied and harassed LGBT youth.
“Kids Involved in Bullying Grow Up to be Poorer, Sicker Adults”	Aug 2013	Bullies and bullied victims both experience negative effects into adulthood, according to a study summary that can be found at this site. By Shute, N. and published on NPR.
“LGBT Students Experience Pervasive Harassment, But School-Based Resources and Supports are Making a Difference”	2012	An extensive report on harassment in schools, utilization of available resources, discrimination policies, and more. The full report is here. Supported by GLSEN and written by Kosciw, J.G. et al.
“Parent-Child Violence Leads to Teen Dating Violence, Study Suggests”	Mar 2013	An Iowa State University study indicating that teen dating violence is often, “a reflection of the relationships teens have with their parents or their parent’s partner.” Found here: http://www.sciencedaily.com/releases/2013/03/130325160237.htm

“Prevent Bullying”	Tool – n.d.	Tips, resources, and more to prevent and intervene with bullying as an educator, parent, or teen. Visit http://www.stopbullying.gov/prevention/index.html .
“Preventing Sexual Violence: An Educational Toolkit for Health Care Professionals”	Tool – n.d.	This toolkit , provided by the American Academy of Pediatrics, provides prevention information and more to providers. They have further tools and materials for sale on their website.
“Runaway and Homeless Youth and Relationship Violence Toolkit”	Tool – n.d.	This toolkit offers guidance and materials for practitioners. It is a collaborative project of the National Resource Center on Domestic Violence and the Family Violence Prevention and Services Program of HHS.
“School Health Policies and Practices Study (SHPPS)”	Aug 2013	The Division of Adolescent and School Health (DASH) released the 2012 School Health Policies and Practices Study (SHPPS) results at http://www.cdc.gov/HealthyYouth/shpps/index.htm . Includes a variety of topics from mental health and social services to family and community involvement.
“Schools Promoting ‘Trauma-Informed’ Teaching to Reach Troubled Students”	Dec 2013	Great for educators, parents, providers, and advocates, all of whom deal with youth who may be suffering from trauma. Get some helpful tips and information here. Created by Adams, J.M. on EdSource.
“Schools Would be Required to Track Anti-Gay Bullying Under New Federal Proposal”	Jun 2013	The Department of Education announcement, championed by our GLSEN Student Ambassadors and other student leadership teams, is critical to informing government and helping our lawmakers take action to ensure that LGBT students have equal access to quality education. Find it here: DoE Announcement by Adams, J. M.
“Severe Abuse at Home Linked to Dating Violence”	Jan 2013	An article summarizing a Michigan State University study that found young urban black women who witness abuse in their home are more likely to become dating violence survivors.

“Sexting and Sexual Behavior in At-Risk Adolescents”	Jan 2014	Official Journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics; http://pediatrics.aappublications.org/content/early/2014/01/01/peds.2013-1157 . Houck et al.
“Shifting Boundaries: Lessons on Relationships for Students in Middle School”	Dec 2010	A ready-made instruction plan that helps middle school students identify their personal boundaries, invasion of their space, and reporting tips. The lesson plan is here . A report on the lesson’s effectiveness in reducing domestic violence can be found at this link .
“Shifting the Paradigm: Primary Prevention of Sexual Violence Toolkit”	Tool – n.d.	From the American College Health Association’s website, this toolkit provides, “...facts, ideas, strategies, conversation starters, and resources to everyone on campus who cares about the prevention of sexual violence.”
“Technology, Teen Dating Violence and Abuse, and Bullying”	Jul 2013	LGBTQ (esp. transgender) teens are at a higher risk for dating violence. Find the study here: https://www.ncjrs.gov/pdffiles1/nij/grants/243296.pdf . Zweig, J., Dank, M., Lachman, P., & Yahner, J.
“Teen Dating Abuse in the Digital Age”	Sep 2013	The Urban Institute of Washington, D.C. published a report demonstrating the prevalence of technology in bullying and teen dating abuse. The highlighted brief, full report, and more can all be accessed on this website .
“Teen Dating Violence Can Affect Later Education, Earnings”	Aug 2013	Information about a study that emphasized the necessity for education and financial assistance for survivors as a way to prevent re-victimization. The peer-reviewed article by Nauert, R. can be found at this site .
“Teen Dating Violence Linked to Long-Term Harmful Effects”	Dec 2012	A Cornell University longitudinal study showing the harmful effects teen survivors can experience years after their abusive relationship and emphasizing the need to screen teens for IPV. A study summary can be found at this link .

“Teen Dating Violence Often Occurs Alongside Other Abuse”	Feb 2012	A new study just released by the American Psychological Association found that teen dating violence often co-occurs with other violence. APA’s website features a “Q and A” about this study, which you can access at http://www.apa.org/news/press/releases/2012/02/teen-violence.aspx , while the full study can be found by clicking here.
“The Experience of Dating Violence Among Latino Adolescents”	Jul 2013	The title speaks for itself – this study determines the extent, impact, resources, and more for Latinos ages 12-18. A summarized report highlighting key points can be found here. The full and final report can be found at this site. Both by Sabina, C., Cuevas, C.A., & Bell., K.A.
“The Hunger Games: Catching Fire for Social Justice”	Tool – n.d.	A lesson plan for educators and high school teens based on social justice, hope, and the Hunger Games series. Good definitions and situational analysis to potentially prevent DV. Click here for the lesson plan.
“The Shame Game”	2013 Fall	Aimed at educators and others who deal with teens who may be dealing with mental illness. Promotes acceptance and normalizing the challenges associated with mental health. Click here for the full article written by Elias, M. in Teaching Tolerance magazine.
“The Sleeper Effect of IPV Exposure: Long-Term Consequences on Young Children’s Aggressive Behavior”	Apr 2013	The Children’s Safety Network provides a link to an abstract that elaborates on intimate partner violence’s effects on children that witness it. You can find the information here.
“Training Toolkits”	Tool – n.d.	For educators, providers, advocates, bus drivers, etc. All kits found, for free, at http://safesupportivelearning.ed.gov/training-technical-assistance/training-products-tools/training-toolkits .
“Understanding Evidence”	Tool – n.d.	A new, interactive CDC web program that could get practitioners CEUs if they complete the learning modules on this website that promotes evidence-based decision making to prevent violence.

“Victims of Bulling are More Likely to be Arrested as Adults”	Aug 2013	Another article showing that the bullied youth may face greater challenges into adolescent- and adult- hood. This NPR article can be found here . By Shute, N.
“Violence Against Violence”	2013	A multilingual peer education program initiative promoted by the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, as well as UN Women. More information about starting the curriculum here .
“Youth Violence”	Jan 2014	The CDC’s main webpage for information on youth violence, prevention strategies, programs, and more. This helpful site can be found by clicking on this blue phrase . New programs and initiatives can be found at http://www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/fundedprograms/index.html .